

Unit - II

* Resume and Cover Letter

Types of Resumes:

Chronological resume

Functional resume

Combination resume

Targeted resume

Tips for writing a good resume:

1. Customize your resume for each position ~~where~~ you are applying for.
2. Make sure the rest of your resume supports your profile and your objective
3. Humility - be humble in your resume
4. Include keywords on your resume.
5. Be ~~concise~~ concise
6. Eliminate all irrelevant points
7. Show a Balance of your strengths and weakness

→ Cover letter - (formal & informal)

Full Block format

Block format

* E-Mail Writing

Introduction. — Sameer Bhatia - 1996

Advantages of Email:

1. Easy to use
2. Global
3. It's free
4. Information at your fingertips
5. Send reminders to yourself
6. Speed
7. With out the need for paper
8. Advertisements
9. Attachments

DisAdvantages of Email:

1. Information overload
2. Internet access
3. Misunderstandings
4. Delete Send Email
5. spamming
6. Virus Attacks
7. Time consuming

E-mail Etiquette

1. Avoid all caps
2. Overuse of bold, underline.
3. Be respectful your tone.
4. Be mobile-friendly with short and concise.
5. Be careful when trying to be ~~lolly~~ funny.
6. salutations and closing should be professional.

* Essay Writing

→ Introduction - derived from Latin word 'exagium'.

→ Types of Essays -

1. Narrative Essays

2. Descriptive Essays

3. Expository Essays

4. Persuasive Essays

Format of an Essay

1. Introduction

2. Body

3. Conclusion